

$85,000 HOME IS PLANNED BY MUTUAL PHONE

New Structure to Offer More Room to Go Up Now That Land Deal With "Y" is Consummated

A public utilities building that will be a credit to Honolulu, and built with an eye to the city's growth for the next fifty years will be erected by the Mutual Telephone Co. now that it has succeeded in its negotiations with the Y. M. C. A. to obtain the piece of land lying back of its present building and fronting on Alakea street. The proposed building will be of concrete and stone, two stories high, with huge basement, and thoroughly fireproof.

"We must have room to grow," said John A. Balch, treasurer of the telephone company. "We are crowded so we have hardly room to breathe in our present quarters. Besides, a public utilities building in a city the size of Honolulu certainly should have a better entrance for the public than a back alley."

The telephone building from bottom to top and from front to back is now crammed full to bursting. The operators' room, with four operators at work, is barely big enough to provide comfortable quarters for one person and one switchboard. Upstairs, the crowding is painful, hardly room enough to pass between the switchboards.

"If we are called upon to put in another room before we get a new building," said Mr. Balch, "I don't know what we shall do, unless we hang it out the window."

The new building, according to the plans, will connect with the present building, the present front entrance will be closed. The operators' room will occupy the extreme rear, or what is now the front of the building, taking up the offices now used by the company, and a wide corridor will lead from this room to the huge lobby which will occupy the front of the building, on the lower floor. On one side of this corridor, a room now occupied by Mr. Balch as his private office, will be turned into a rest room for the operators, and on the other side, immediately opposite, will be a library and a reading room for women employees. Beyond these rooms, toward Alakea street, offices for various officials will be placed on either side of the corridor. The battery room, which now occupies the entire second floor, will be in the basement.

With the acquisition of the frontage on Alakea street, added to the ground which lies between this space and the present building, the telephone company will have room for a building easily twice the size of its present quarters.

It will cost in the neighborhood of $85,000, exclusive of architect's plans and specifications, for Mr. Hummel, of the telephone company, will be the architect.

It is the intention of the telephone company to begin work on the building just as soon as materials can be put on the ground, if the purchase is made.

They're On The Job Down at Kawaiioa Guard Camp

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
CAMP LILUOKALANI, Kawaiioa, November 13.—Camp Liluokalani, where Hawaii's two regiments of national guardsmen are in training, is already becoming a popular place for visitors. From the businessman's family in the big motor car that drives out to see "that boy" at work in the khaki uniform of Uncle Sam to the "kids" of the nearby Hawaiian neighbors at Kawaiioa, they gather for a look at the busy scene.

And it is busy—a tented city of "business." Motor cars humming here and there, motor trucks chugging in with supplies, refrigerator cars being unloaded with the day's supply of bread and meats, to say nothing of the constant "hump-hoo-hee-haw" with which stalwart officers count time to their men while bayonets glint in the sun and perspiration streams down tanned brows.

At night, with the cool breeze sweeping down across the camp, its only noise the flapping of a tent wall or the rustle of the sand dunes, the contrast is as impressive as is the constant activity of the day. Impressive and yet lost to all but the guards who pace their rounds with rifles at shoulder, their comrades snoring blissfully in relaxation from the day's work.

Sanitation is being taught the guardsmen as one of their first lessons. It may or it may not be necessary, but the government is taking no chances and among the first bits of instruction given the men as they come to camp are the theory and practice of sanitation and care of the health. Yesterday it was haircut day for many of the Filipinos who had come to camp with bushy hair. Gen. Sam Johnson spotted them in a hurry and the instructions went out to the encampment barracks.

One view with awe the feeding of the multitude. The army has allotted 60,000 rations for the camp during the two-week period, a ration being food for one man for one day.

Perishable goods, such as beef, bread and ice are shipped to the camp each day from Honolulu in a refrigerator car. Food is issued to the men just the same as if they were in active service instead of on encampment from which they may be withdrawn in the course of 15 days.

Today 81 men from Hilo joined the camp, having been brought in by the Mauna Kea on a special trip. These were sent to the camp upon arrival here. This brings the camp up to full strength. All tents are up and everything running without a hitch. The school of the squad was taken up today for drill work.

Alfred W. Eames, president and manager of the Hawaiian Islands Packing Co., Ltd., sailed for the Valley Island in the Claudine.

NON-COMS MUCH INTERESTED IN TRAINING CAMP

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Nov. 13.—The non-commissioned officers of the post were particularly interested in the notices posted yesterday announcing that a second course of instruction would commence at the training camp on January 5, 1918, and continue for three months, to which they would be eligible as students and obtain commission as second lieutenants if graduated, and would be commissioned as vacancies occur. In addition to the enlisted personnel eligible for attendance, graduate and undergraduates of universities, colleges and schools which have earned recognition by having had military training under army officers the past ten years would also be admitted.

The quota each regiment will contribute to the school is fixed at about 2 per cent of its total strength and this will mean that about 175 fortunate non-commissioned officers will attend the second camp. As student applications are made to the department adjutant, it cannot be learned at this time of the number of civilians who will avail themselves of the privilege.

The latter class will be required to enlist for the period of the war and in event are not recommended for commission will be required to complete their enlistment. While students they will receive the pay and allowances of privates first-class.

As a result of this order, which is general throughout the states and territories, numerous training camps will have to be organized, where not already in existence, as one is provided for each division of Uncle Sam's three armies, and six separate ones including the training camp at Schofield Barracks.

ARMY ORDERS

The following transfers of enlisted men are ordered:
Chief Mechanic Joseph Wirasnik, Battery A, 9th Field Artillery, as private to Company D, 3rd Engineers, Fort Shafter.

Private Joseph Resh, Troop B, 4th Cavalry, to Company E, 3rd Telegraph Battalion, Signal Corps, Fort Shafter.
Private Harry Weston, Company F, 2nd Infantry, to Company F, 32nd Infantry, Schofield Barracks.

Bugler James Sloan, Company F, 32nd Infantry, as private to Company F, 2nd Infantry, Fort Shafter.

Captain William T. Peyton, Signal Officers' Reserve Corps, in addition to his other duties, is detailed as acting department signal officer, Hawaiian Department, vice Captain Eugene A. Lohman, Signal Corps, relieved.

Privates Clifford C. McCarthy, C. A. Co., 2nd Company, Oahu, and Jay R. Tubbs, C. A. Co., 3rd Company, Oahu, are transferred to the quartermaster corps, and will report to the commanding officer, coast defenses of Oahu, for assignment and duty.

Social Annoyance

From a hygienic standpoint social annoyance is getting serious, since the strain on both the body and the mind requires constant physical attention. Certainly nothing is more annoying to a refined person than offensive perspiration or body odors. Those who have used Tyro's Antiseptic Powder know it to be the one remedy which never disappoints. For general uses—dependable in all cases—it should be in every household.

Dr. M. E. Chartier, of the Faculté de Paris, France, said: "If there is a very unpleasant affection and hard to cure at that, it is surely these conditions." He also says, "there are to be found in the drug stores many preparations containing boric acid and talcum. These preparations, generally used in a dried state, have the great inconvenience of clogging the pores of the skin. This is not the case with Tyro's Antiseptic Powder, as it acts as a deodorizing, stimulating agent. My attention was called to this fact while attending several cases of severe inflammation produced by Poison Oak. While no other remedy would give relief, Tyro's Antiseptic in the proportion of two teaspoonfuls to a pint of water allayed the intense pain in a comparatively short space of time."

This preparation is sold in boxes at twenty-five cents and one dollar, by the manufacturer, J. A. Tyro, Chemist, Inc., Washington, D. C.
